A Puzzle to Police.

Detective Sergeant James Bell of East Orange, who has had a long experience [illegible] police and detective work, says that [illegible] police of the Oranges are up against [illegible] hardest proposition they ever struck [illegible] their efforts to capture the burglar [illegible] who is known throughout the Oranges, Montclair and this town as the man with [illegible] small hand. This is the thief who gains entrance to houses by cutting a block from the door panels. His work, Detective Bell says, is the boldest and most deliberate of any crank that the police have had experience with, and the singular and puzzling feature of it is that none of his plunder ever comes to light in the pawnshops, fences, or other places where thieves usually dispose of their goods. The man with the small hand has made extensive hauls in the Oranges, Glen Ridge, Montclair and this town, and in nearly every case his work shows evidence of daring and deliberateness. In several instances he has not [illegible]d to eat or drink some of the [illegible] that he has found in cellars while engaged in plundering

The Lamp of a Man's Life.

Dr. Holmes said the lamp of a man's life has three wicks—brain, blood and breath—and to turn down any one of them makes the other two go out. The wounds a man will survive and even disregard so long as his head, heart and lungs are unhurt have long been one of the wonders of war history.

Heartstrings Particularly.

Whatever music there may be in the instrument called man cannot be brought out fully and entirely until a woman takes it in charge and plays upon the strings of it.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Unfortunately the Only Way.

"Of course you wouldn't marry a title?"

"Not if there was any other way of getting one," answered the severely practical girl.—Chicago Post.

Modern Version.

Rich Heiress—Are you sure you love me?

Hard Up—Love you? Why, I worship the very ground you inherit.

Picnic Postponed.

The old-fashioned picnic announced to take place to-day in Glenwood Park, under the auspices of the members of the Church of the Sacred Heart, has been postponed to Saturday, August 15. The change in the day was made on account of the recent heavy rains making the picnic grounds too damp to be used with safety for picnic purposes.

Rescued From Drowning.

With the aid of an apron, Mrs. Pasquale Delores, an Italian woman residing in the Bowery district, saved the life of 16-year-old Edward De Graw Wednesday afternoon.

Young De Graw was gathering driftwood in the deep pool of the Second River, which was unusually high on account of the recent heavy rains, and accidentally got beyond his depth. Mrs. Delores, who was passing the place with a bundle of clothing upon her head, saw the lad's predicament and went to his rescue. She pulled her apron off and threw one end of it to the struggling lad and pulled him to the shore in safety. Without saying a word the rescuer went on her way.

Object to Colored Janitor.

Because they objected to having their children supervised by a colored man thirty-eight residents of the First Ward of Orange signed a petition presented at the monthly meeting of the Board of Education of that place Wednesday night, remonstrating against the recent appointment of Ernest L. Johnson as janitor of the Oakwood avenue school. James Conroy, who presented the petition, urged the Board to reconsider their action, and declared that unless a white man was appointed many of the residents of the ward would refuse to send their children to the school.

Our Mail Order System!

There was a time, and not so very long ago, when shopping by letter was looked at askance, not to say with scorn; but to-day with our corps of expert shoppers and splendid forwarding facilities, mail trading has taken a forward step—in fact, so perfect and prompt is our system that fatiguing journeys are absolutely unnecessary and a line by post is as satisfactory as a personal visit.

We solicit this class of patronage and assure absolute satisfaction. Every one at a distance, those at mountain, shore, or at home, should acquaint themselves with the merits of New Jersey's Greatest Mail Order Department. Use it freely—unhesitatingly.
